

Loon Zooms, 2025-2026

Adirondack Center for Loon Conservation

Griffin Archambault, Research Biologist at the Adirondack Center for Loon Conservation (ACLC), has posted on the ACLC's website (adkloon.org), a series of 7 Loon Zooms beginning on November 20, 2025, and concluding on April 16, 2026. If interested, look at the ACLC website to read a brief description of each Loon Zoom. Topics and dates are given below:

Loon Zoom 1: "The New York Annual Loon Census: Knowns, Unknowns and What We Hope to Learn": Thursday, 11/20/25; 7:00PM – 8:00PM;

Virtual Presentation: "Are Loons on Thin Ice With Climate Change?": Wednesday, 12/3/25; 6:00PM – 7:00PM;

Loon Zoom 2: "Loons of Mt. Desert Island; The Roles of Biological Specialization and Geography on Territorial Dynamics": 12/18/25; 7:00PM – 8:00PM;

Loon Zoom 3: "The Recovery of the Common Loon in Vermont and Cautionary Notes About the Future": Thursday, 1/15/26; 7:00PM – 8:00PM;

Loon Zoom 4: "Loon Wintering Ecology, and the Significance of the Jocassee Gorges Region, South Carolina, to Loons During the Non-Breeding Season": Thursday, 2/19/26; 7:00PM – 8:00PM;

Loon Zoom 5: "Our Favorite Loon Stories, Part II": Thursday, 3/19/26; 7:00PM – 8:00PM;

Loon Zoom 6: "Looking Back, Looking Forward; Year in Review and 2026 Preview": Thursday, 4/16/26; 7:00PM – 8:00PM.

Loon Zooms cost $10 to register, or register for all 6 for $50. Virtual Presentation on 12/3/25 is free.

Loon Zooms are virtual events. Links will be emailed the day before the presentation. Recordings of the presentation will be sent out the day after the presentation to anyone registered.

To register, go to adkloon.org; click on Events; scroll to the desired Loon Zoom; click on Register online HERE.